

DISTRICT STUDENT AID PROGRAM

I. GENERAL

A. Purpose

The purpose of the District Student Aid Program is to assist in providing resources to those studying to be full-time church workers in the Lutheran Church–Missouri Synod. The program is funded through the budget of the Southeastern District (SED) as well as donations from congregations, auxiliary organizations, and individuals.

B. Objectives

The objective of the program is to provide student aid on a school-year basis, to members of the Southeastern District whose major course of study results in a full-time professional career in the Lutheran Church–Missouri Synod.

Grants are generally provided only to students studying within the Concordia University System and Seminaries. Exceptions are made for those students attending Valparaiso University and Lenoir-Rhyne University who are pursuing a full-time career in church work in the Lutheran Church–Missouri Synod.

The SED Student Aid Program is intended to financially assist in the education of our students who commit themselves to a full-time church work career. However, the District recognizes the value of Concordia University Distance Education Programs (such as CUENET) that are not full-time that will result in an LCMS certification. Applications for these programs will be considered on an individual basis by the SED Student Aid Task Force.

Individuals who are members in good standing of a congregation and are employed as full-time non-synodically trained teachers and enroll in a colloquy program to obtain a Lutheran Teacher Diploma (LTD) may also apply and be considered for assistance.
